To Society confronts the difficulty, but only partially overcomes it, by extending the stage over space usually occupied by the orchestra of the opera, and thus bringing forward a considerable number of musicians beyond the deadening influence of the scenery. We shall never hear a symphony in New-York precisely as it should be heard unless, perhaps, that millengial here to whom destiny has assigned the work of erecting a music hall worthy to rank with that of Boston should anticipate his time and unexpectedly fulfill his mission to the smazed and admiring gratitude of the IMMEDIATE NOVELTIES. "London" will be produced at the French Cheater, this evening. Henry Lesite, of London, and John S. Clarke, of Philadelphia, are its authors. It is a romantic sensation play, in three acts, with a prologue ie scenery for it was painted in London, by Mr. J. John son, and is said to present accurate pictures of various moted buildings and places in that city. About a dozen personages are introduced in the course of the story. The chief female character will be personated by Mrs Clara Jennings, who has left the company at the Fifth Avenue Theater, and accepted an engagement under Mr. Tayleure's direction. The incident seems to us worthy of especial mention. There is no actress on our stage more

At Wood's Museum, Yankee Robinson will give his first day performance this afternoon, as Darius Dutton. In the evening the buriesque of " Aladdin, the Wonderful Scamp" will be performed, with Miss Celia Howson and Mr. Jerome Howson in the chief parts. The latter performers will, on this occasion, make their first appearance in New-York. A menageric has been added to the Museum-which, together with the other features in this popular establishment, we shall describe at BOOTH'S THEATER.

Miss Bateman enters, this evening, upon the

Those who would see Miss Bateman in her best-in the accurate and touching interpretation of genuine sorrow, and the graceful embodiment of sample, noble fortitude-should see her as Mary Warner. Few opportunities of enjoying this pleasure remain to them. Her engagement will close on the 27th, and Mr. Hackett, as Fuistoff, will succeed her, on the 29th. Mr. Palgrave Simpson's "Time and the Hour" was presented at this theater on Saturday night. We shall speak of it in detail at another time. For the present it may suffice to say that the three sets of scenery which framed it were among the most admirable ever seen on the local stage-refl cting the greatest credit upon Mr. Waller's stage-management and the skill of the scenic artistsand that some good acting was done by Miss Morant, Mr. Hamilton, and Mr. Peters. intimacy with Lord Byron's Manfred. He will again essay the interpretation of that character, on Wednesday afterneon, at Steinway Hall. Mr. G. W. Morgan will furnish the same extraordinary music by which he distinguished innself, on a recent occasion. This entertainment has claims to attention which can only be appreciated by those who hear the reading and the music.

Mr. Wallack's representation of Colone While, in "Home," and Hugh de Brass, in "A Regular Fix," continue to attract crowded houses at Wallack's Theater. The Saturday Matinee was very largely ator. I can say that it was our friends in San Francisco. Since we have been here we have endeavored to please yon, but with indifferent success at times, for our hearts have been saddened by the intelligence of the death of friends abroad; and Mrs. Florence has not been well. THE VANDERBILT ERONZES-THEIR MATERIAL AND THE MODE OF FASTENING THEM. To the Editor of The Tribune.

On the morning after the unvailing of the Vanderbilt bronzes your Art critic alluded slightingly to the material of which it is composed. He said that the relievi, such as the steamship, railroad-cars, &c., were mposed of copper and tin. What the actual ingredients and proportions in the famous Corinthian bronze were, we do not know; but it is evident that, at the moment of writing, your critic had also forgotten that the present modern bronze is a composite metal consisting of equal preportions of copper, tin, and zinc. He should also have recollected that in the execution of so elaborate and varied a work it is not necessary to make use of these exact proportions in easting the relievi. For them the metal is required to be somewhat softer in its nature, s as to make the joints of the connection perfect.

In alluding to the anchors which fasten the entire work he finds fault on account of their being iron. This is to a certain extent true. They are iron, but they are also coated with a metallic composition which will preserve them to the end of time. But even had they not been thus guarded against any possible contingency, they would have lasted for ages, since it is impossible for iron to exidize, to any extent, where it is kept from the atmosphere, or from the corrosive action of salt water. From old buildings, which have stood since colonial times, beam anchors have been taken in late years, and the from found absolutely perfect in preservation. The weight of the anchors which fasten this immense work to the masonry exceeds four tuns. They are also built into the wall, some parts of which exceed three feet in thickness, and the bricks of which are laid in a preparation of ce-ment that will, in a short time, become as hard as the netal itself; so that nothing short of a convulsion of nature could ever destroy the work. Very respectfully, New York, Nov. 14, 1869.

RIOT IN CHATHAM-SQUARE. About 3 p. m. yesterday, while a Hibernian Benevolent Society, returning from the burial of a late member, were passing through Chatham-square, their ranks were broken by the driver of car No. 178 of the Third-ave. line, who attempted to pass through. He demanded the release of the horses, which was refused, and some hot words passing between him and the Hibernians, a number of the more turbulent made an assault on the former, and beat him in a serious manner. Some of the passengers came to the rescue of the driver, and were in turn them selves attacked. They fought back, and a renewal of the St. Patrack's Day and Fourth of July riots of a few years ago was threatened. A crowd collected, and travel was impeded, cars rapidly coming up and unable to proceed. The driver finally managed to escape from his assailants, but not until he had been very seriously beaten. CHURCH DEDICATION AT WASHINGTON HIGHTS. The new Washington Hights Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of One-hundred-and-fifty-thirdst. and Tenth-ave., was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. This edifice has been erected, after a ong struggle, at a cost of $59,500, which covers all the long struggle, at a cost of $30,500, which covers all the expenses of erection, furnishing, &c. The first service of the church was held Sanday, Nov. 3,1867, in the Dutch Reformed Church (leased) on One-hundred-and-fifty-second-st., under the auspices of the New-York Sunday-School Missionary Society, of which W. W. Cornell, esq., was President. The Society soon gathered in strength, and a new church was projected. A donation of three lots of ground and a liberal sum of money—the latter from the purse of Mr. W. W. Cornell—enabled the builders to proceed at once. The ground was broken for the church Oct. 22, 1868, and the corner-stone was laid Dec. 17, 1868. The size of the church is 56x86 feet, with an adjoining lot 30 feet wide for a pursonage. The style of the architecture is Gothic, with a spire 135 feet in hight. There is a large lecture-room on the ground floor under the audience room, which is used as a Sunday School, and the whole church contains all the modern improvements for heating, ventilating, etc. The following clergymen have been the pastors of the church: the Rev. J. D. Blaine, from November, 1867 to November, 1868; the Rev. W. G. Browning, from November, 1868 to April, 1869, and the Rev. J. Millard, who is the present pastor. At 10½ yesterday morning, the new church was filled with the members and invited friends. Appropriate music was sung by the choir under the direction of G. P. Benjamin, organist of the Washington-square M. E. Church. The introductory service was read by the Pastor, Mr. Millard, the first and second scripture lessons by the Rev. D. L. Marks of the New-York City Mission, and the Rev. Charles C. Keys of Morrisania, and the opening prayer by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Ferris, Presiding Elder of the New-York District Bishop E. S. Janes then delivered the dedicatory sermon, selecting as his text the 63d Chapter of Isaiah, the first four verses. The pastor of the church, Mr. Millard, then presented a statement of the financial condition of the expense being, its stated above, $25,000. On xpenses of erection, furnishing, &c. MYSTICISM - BLEECKER-ST. UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The Rev. E. C. Sweetser preached a sermon at this church, yesterday morning, on "Mysticism and its Effects on the Lives of Modern Christians." The congregation was large and very attentive. Choosing his text from Revelations xxi., 7. The speaker, in opening, made from Revelations xxi., 7. The speaker, in opening, inade reference to the sermon of the preceding Sunday morning, in which he had presented the audience with a refutation of that view of life which he denominated the skeptical, or merely worldly-wise, and said that in continuation of the same line of thought, he preposed to present to them another view of life, another system of philosophy, and to discuss it much in the same manner as he had the former one. This view of life we call the mystical. It is more especially an Eastern system of belief, and it is among the Hindoo mystics that we find it most completely and unhesitatingly carried out in the

he had the former one. This view of life we call the mystical. It is more especially an Eastern system of belief, and it is among the Hindoo mystics that we find it most completely and unhesitatingly carried out in the practice of daily life. But, like the skeptical philosophy, it early found its way into the besom of the church, and sowed those seeds which afterward sprang up and flourished so abundantly through the middle ages. The Reformation partially freed the Church from its control, but it still has a strong hold on the creed and practice of the Church, even in its Protestant branch. The Hindoo mystic says:

"This life is an unmitigated evil, a state of punishment inflicted on the souls of men for sins committed in a precision state. Our duty, therefore, in regard to it is simply to submit to it, to do nothing, to make he attempt to better our condition, for every such attempt is a rebellion against God. If we patiently submit, God may restore us to favor after death, but if we do not submit, if we attempt to overcome the evils of life, we shall be sent back here again for fresh punishment." The Christian mystic says: "This life is an evil, it is a state of punishment, but for sins committed, not personally in a precisivent state, but by proxy in the loins of Adam. We are being punished for Adam's sin. Our duty in regard to that punishment is to fearlithe God who inflicts; and to believe in the miraculous efficacy of Christ's blood. By so doing, we may be released from punishment after death, but if we fail to do this, we shall be punished in hell forever." The sermon was closed with a reference to the simile before mentioned between the condition of man in this life and that of a bird in a cage. In the light of the revelation given us in Christ we see what our duty is in this cage of human life.

upon the moralities of the people, and we will have no morals without the Bible. Now is the time for us to go out and preach earnestly, and the best place to begin is at home. The best way in this world is to do the duty next us, and the one next that, and so on. Every man and woman is required to do something. The whole church is a royal priesthood. It is not apostolic. The reverend gesticman concluded by recounting how, when Richmond was taken every man felt commissioned to preach the giad tidings. Everybody told everybody. Flames flashed it, bells rang it, and stern, hard men wept like children, and were almost crazy with joy. In concluding, he earnestly, feelingly urged every one to preach the giad tidings. The sermon was listened to with wrapt attention by a large audience, and as the speaker reached the climax in the description of the fall of Richmond, many became enthusiastic, and men were seen to slyly wipe away a enthusiastic, and men were seen to slyly wipe away a tear.

DR. BELLOWS ON THE CLAIMS OF UNITARIANISM. Dr. Bellows preached yesterday forenoon at All Souls' Church upon the "Claims of the Unitarian Cause," finding his text in the first epistle of St. John, first chapter, fifth and sixth verses, " Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned. From which some having swerved, have turned aside into vain jaugling." Dr. Bellows said that Jesus Christ gave himself a ransom for all is an undenlable doctrine of Paul. It is a doctrine which does not appear in any other way so strongly as in Paul's episites. And it is a doctrine mostly confined to Paul, none other of the inspired writers. Matthew, Mark, Linke or John expressing it so strongly as Paul. We must not deny it, however, because he alone testifies to it; that would be unfair; but we are compelled to observe whether the fundamental doctrines of Christianity are symmetrical. All the apostles are agreed that Jesus was the Christ. The doctrine of immortality was not a Christian doctrine; it was known and believed centuries before, and Christ took it for granted and did not reiterate it. And the only reason that Jesus performed miracles was because the appeal to the reason of the Jews made by the prophets had failed, and miracles alone remained. Christ's great original sublime peculiarity was in declaring "the Kingdom of God," which the Jews were vainly fancying to be some splendid development of their own national power, coming with the trappings or pomp of victory. Christ announced that they were to begin at once to work, that all the wrappings of superstinion and formalism which had thus far made minimise of their strength were to be stripped off. The truth was not new; it was eternal. It had existed from the creation of the world. Dr. Bellows then made a growing eulogium of the work done by the Unitarian ommandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a of the world. Dr. Bellows then made glowing eulogiam of the work done by the Unitaria Church "would subscribe at least $2,000. The collection was then taken, with a most satisfactory response from the unitarian Church were going to make a collection this Sunday of $100,000. He hoped that "All Souls" Church "would subscribe at least $2,000. The collection was then taken, with a most satisfactory response from the members. DEDICATION OF THE CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. The new temporary church edifice of the Central Presbyterian Church, crected in Fifty-sixth-st., near Broadway, was formally dedicated to the service of God yesterday forenoon. The church was established in 1821, with the Rev. Dr. Patten as paster, and an edifice erected in Broome-st, where services were held until about three years ago, when the building was sold to the Merchants' Union Express Campany, and by them con-verted into a stable. Last Winter two lots, one fronting on Fifty-sixth-st, and one on Fifty-seventh-st, were puchased, and a chapel, with a commodious Sunday-school in the rear, erected upon the former. The church me story in hight, with a high and pointed root up will seat about 500 nersons. The interest is a large will seat about 500 nersons. and will seat about 500 persons. The interior is tas fully painted and furnished, and all the seats are uph stered in a comfortable manner. The cost of the was nearly $20,000, and the lots upon which it sta was nearly $20,000, and the lots upon which it stands are valued at $4,000. The services yesterday morning were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Jas. D. Wilson, assisted by Dr. Spaulding and the Rev. Thomas Skinner, the pastor preaching the dedicatory sermon. He chose as his text a portion of the 12th verse of the 47th chapter of the Prophesy of Ezekiel: "It shall bring forth new fruit according to his mouths because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary." At the conclusion of the sermon, the Rev. Thomas H. Skinner made the dedicatory prayer, a hymn was sunz, the benediction pronounced, and the congregation dismissed. It is, the intention of the Society to creet ere long a commedious church edifice in the rear-sf this chapel, and fronting on Fifty-seventh-st., converting the chapel into a Sabbath-school room.

THE NEW-YOUR CLTY MISSION.

the New-Yark City Mission, and in that time had distributed 500,500 tracts, 364 Bibles, and 368 Testaments. In the same time, in order to supply the want of a library in the ward where he labored, he had purchased, out of his own scanty means, 244 books written by some of the best men, and distributed them to those most requiring them. He had cellected 1,257 children into the Sabbath-schools, and many of them had become superintendents and teachers. He had brought 376 children to the public schools; taken 148 persons, mostly adults, to the bible-class; induced 685-persons to attend church: administered 150 temperance piedges; 1,413 prayer-meetings were held; is backsiders reclaimed; 218 converts to Evangelleai churches usade. During the last quarter he had visited 110 sick and destitute families and specimen of the work which the City Mission was doing through its missionaries. The reports of other missionaries would even make a greater exhibit. He detailed the results of his own visiting fexperiences lately, which were most gratifying. The Rev. Dr. Adams then introduced Mr. Jessup, the treasurer, the burden of whose address was that money was badly needed. The City Mission was poor and in debt. As a business man, he was often surprised at the sad fact that Christian organizations like the present were forever obliged to beg, beg, beg. One never reads in the papers of applications for money to support theaters and such places. He hoped his hearers would contribute as far as their means would allow to sustain this great and useful enterprise. A collection was taken up, after which the Rev. Pr. Paxton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, addressed the congregation on the peculiar excellences and claims of the Mission.

CONSERVATIVE SPIRIT OF THE EPISCOPAL

CHURCH. The second of a course of sermons on the Conservative Spirit of the Episcopal Church, as regards changes and ritual, was preached last evening at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, by the Rev. Dr. Weston of St. John's Chapel. The speaker alluded to the aphorism,
"We go in the middle paths most safely," and attempted to show that the Episcopal Church held the middle ground between Catholicism and the dissenters from Episcopalianism. It discarded the gorgeous worslip of the one, and the meagerness of the other. It occupied, also, a middle ground on the baptismal question it did not consider, with the Catholic Church, that baptism within its pale was essential to salvation; nor did it, like certain Protestant sects, ignore the rite. It did not think that either unbaptized children or pagans were lost to salvation. Episcopalianism, also, the speaker said, took a middle ground in regard to the sacrament. It did not, like Catholicism, maintain that the act of consecration turned bread and wine into the veritable flesh and blood of Christ, nor did it deny its efficancy, and make it merely a memorial commemoration. It considered the act a commemoration, but in a greater degree than dissenters, and, likewise, that although Christ was not corporeally present, yet in some mysterious way he was spiritually so. The middle course which the Episcopal Church held respecting tradition, was defined as noning unlike that of Rome, in making the written and unwritter tradition of men of equal importance with holy writ, and, at the same time, differing from the opinions of dissenters, who demanded that the Bible should be taken without comment, and be interpreted by the individual judgment of the reader. St. John's Chapel. The speaker alluded to the aphorism,

SERMON BY THE REV. DR. COX. The reverend and venerable Dr. Samuel H. Cox, D. D., now in the fifty-fourth year of his ministry in this City, last evening preached a sermon to the young people of the Seventh Presbyterian Church—corner of Broome and Ridge Streets—upon the "Sublime Mediatorship of Christ." In commencing the exercises, the doctor read a portion of the Epistle to the Thessalomans, and also the first to the Colossians, intervarying the reading with comments and explanations of his own. He explained that the Christian God was a trium one, and illustrated the relations of the three persons to each other and to mankind. What might be considered as more peculiarly the text of the evening's discourse, he read from the First Epistle of Paul to Timothy, being the first six verses of the second chapter. He then proceeded to show, by many citations of Scripture, how all mankind are born in sinfulness through the sin of our first parents; that no man need hope for salvation through his own efforts alone; but God his expressly and repeatedly declared that He had no pleasure in the death of the wicked, and He has provided a means of salvation broad enough to embrace all. The death on Calvary and the empty tomb were sufficient to wipe out the sun of human gails, but only to those who were willing to accept the sacrifice could they profit aught. There is no salvation except through the Mcdiatorship of Christ, who stands ready to accept all who will come to Hum, but to those who refuse to come nothing remains but an eternity of misery. this City, last evening preached a sermon to the young GENERAL PRAYER MEETING OF THE YOUNG

MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION. The Portland Convention, in July last, which was composed of delegates representing the Young Men's Associations of this country and Canada, recommended that the second Sunday in November should e universally observed as a day of prayer. In accordbe universally observed as a day of prayer. In accordance with that recommendation, a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city was held, last night, at the rooms, No. 161 Piftb-ave. The meeting was moderately well attended. Mr. Cephas Brainerd conducted the exercises. Mr. William E. Dodge, ir., the President, Mr. James Stokes, and several other members, made brief addresses, touching the various wants and necessities which were experienced. These were followed by appropriate prayers, and hymns were sung in the intervals. At $9 o'clock the meeting separated, previously to which it was announced that the new building, corner of Twenty-third-st, and Fourth-ave, would be ready to receive the Association

The Rev. Mr. Northrup, pastor of the Twentythird-st. Presbyterian Church, having decided on an in-novation of the honored custom of delivering an annual chapter, with verse-" Give thanks always for all things enapter, 20th verse—" Give thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ." The reverend speaker began by saying that it was customary in all Protestant denominations to have a formal discourse for the day set apart for Thanksgiving by Executive proclamation; but as he had nothing to say in the pulpit which he could not after on Sunday, he had departed from the custom. Most mulasters of the Gospel here was no necessity to wait. Nowadays, no o ds to regard Thanksgiving Day with religio unity, and he believed that a minister con remployed than in wasting his efforts prepare on to be delivered before empty pews, bea droying his appetite for dinner.

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS. A meeting was held last evening at No. 64 West Sixteenth-st. to discuss the subject-" The Bible in the Schools." Dr. Sheppard presided. He stated that he, for one, did not wish to provoke a sectarian quarrel upon this or any other subject, but he was opposed to upon this or any other subject, but he was opposed to having the public money appropriated for the use of sectarian schools. Eather than have the Bible as a stumbing block in the way, he was willing that it be dispensed with altogether in the schools. Mr. Thompson, Mr. Somerville, and sothers, spoke in favor of excluding all religious books from the schools if public opinion was in favor of it. Mr. Mc-chesnau held that the Bible should not only be used in the public schools, but wherever an education is deemed necessary; that the study of the Scriptures and a careful knowledge of the Word of God are requisite to prepare persons for citizenship in such a country as ours, other persons made addresses pro and con. Another meeting will be held next Sunday evening.

A NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH IN JERSEY CITY. The corner-stone of a new Roman Catholic Church, to be known as St. Bridget's, was laid, with appropriate ceremonies, yesterday at the corner of Gilbert ad Mercer-sta, Jersey City. The Rev. Father Corrigan moducted the services, and deposited the stone. Eight udson County Societies—St. Peter's and the Hiberman enevolent Societies, St. Patrick and the Father Matthew emperance Societies, the Workingmen's Union and the abovers' Society, the Boniace Eenevolent Society, all effects of the County of the Co Laborers' Society, the Boniface Benevoient Society, sill of Jersey City, and St. Joseph's Temperance Society of Hadson City, assisted at the ecremonies, together with about 1,000 citizens of both sexes. The dedication address was delivered by the Bev. Mr. Byrnes of Camden. The church has a brick foundation, which is to be surmounted by a frame superstructure, and it is calculated will seat between 100 and 800 worshippers. The cost is estimated it about $10.000. at about $10,000

THE HOWARD MISSION.

THE HOWARD MISSION.

At the conclusion of the regular Sunday afernoon exercises in the chapel of the Little Wanderers' Home, yesterday, Mr. A. S. Hatch, President of the How ard Mission, delivered an eloquent address of welcome to ard Mission, delivered an eloquent address of welcome to the Rev. Wm. C. Van Meter, recently reappointed to the superintendency of the Home. In the course of his remarks Mr. Hatch referred to the foolish report that the Mission had been handed over to the Fede-Baptist. He took pleasure in assuring the friends of the Mission that I was in the hands of no seet, but that it was, on the contrary, as it always has been, independent of all, and under the direction of men who had in view simply the doing of good according to the precepts of the Savior. The exercises were varied with songs well sung by the 200 children, and closed with a prayer. ercises were varied with songs dren, and closed with a prayer.

SWEDENBORG AND ORTHODOXY.

A large andience gathered in the hall of Cooper Institute last evening to listen to a lecture on Swedenborg and Orthodoxy, delivered by Chauncey Swedenborg and Orthodoxy, delivered by Chauncey Glies. The lecturer read a part of the sacred Scripture as found in the 54th chapter of Isalah, and observed it was a prophesy of the time when men should see eye to eye, which was fast approaching. He said that the progress of man is by distinci steps—era followed era, and a new spiritual truth as well as discovery in science changed the whole lot of human netivity. A new belief changes our worship. He reviewed the dectrines of the Christian Church, and defined the tenets of Swedenborg, which he denominated the New Church. CHURCH OF THE PILGRIMS.

The Rev. Richard S. Storrs, jr., D. D., pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims, preached last evening at

of the 26th chapter of Markhew: "And Pater remem-bered the word of Jesus, which said unto him before the cock crow then shall deny me thrice, and he went out and wept bilterly." The sermon was a powerful arga-ment on the effect of a guilty or of a clear conscience upon the mind, and of the power of the memory. At t close of the sermen Dr. Storrs alieded to the fact th last evening was the twenty third anniversary of his set tlement over the congregation of the Church of the

THE NEWSBOYS AND BOOTBLACKS.

The Sunday evening services of the newsbeys and bootblacks who sleep at the Eleventh Ward Lodging-House, No. 709 East Eleventh-st., were last night of an unusually interesting character. Mr. D. Ed #it Hanley conducted the meeting, assisted by Mr. D. Willis James. The boys read in concert, and joined with much spirit in the singing. The addresses were short and to the point.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE AT ROME. The Rev. George H. Doane, Chancellor of the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, has received from Charles O'Condr. esq., of that city $5,000 to aid the American College at Rome. This sum, added to that previously received by Mr. Doane in the different dioceses of the United States, makes up the required $200,000.

THE ERIE TROUBLES.

STRIKE OF THE BRAKEMEN-PROBABLE STRIKE

ON THE GREAT WESTERN DIVISION. The strike of the brakeman upon the Erie Road is virtually disposed of. The men expected co-operation from the engineers, but this they have so far Road is virtually disposed of. The men expected coperation from the engineers, but this they have so far failed to receive, and each day impairs the strength of the strikers. Most of the engineers entertain the proposition far from favorably. They believe that the action of the men now engaged in the strike was hasty, and they have ceased to sympathize with them. The ongineers Hoyt and Drew, who, a few days ago, delivered speeches expressing sympathy with the striking brakemen, have been indefinitely suspended from their positions. Hoyt has, it is reported, apologized for his conduct to the General Superintendent of the road, and may possibly be reinstated. The general sentiment among their fellow-engineers approves the course of the Company in regard to these men. They say that it is just what they might have expected, and just what they deserved. The strike of the brakemen in the employ of the Company on the Great Western Division, which was threatened on Saturday because of the failure of the Company to pay them during the last three months, has not as yet assumed any definite shape. The sentiment in favor of it, however, daily gains strength, and it is probable that they will strike unless the Company makes an early paynent or comes to some settlement. It is reported that on Saturday last Houtaling, the President of the Society of the strikers, while engaged upon the grounds of the Company at Port Jervis in dissuading some men from working who were inclined to do so, encountered General Superintendent Enckert. Some words passed between the two. Ruckert ordered Houtaling off the premises, and Houtaling refused to go. Ruckert thereupon seized him by the cellar and put him off forcibly.

On Saturday afternoon the Organizing Committee of the Woman's Council, under the Presidency of Mrs. A. Dinsmore, held a registration meeting at Packard's School-Rooms, corner of Twenty-second-st. and Broadway. Various new names were enrolled. Mrs. Dinsmore gave a sketch of the proposed Sani'ary and Physiological Institute, and Mrs. Poole read an essay on the "Femmine Force in Nature." She contended that man alone could not reach the causes of existing social ills, the divinity which worked through womanhood being necessary to render his schemes fruitful. A new force, therefore, the organized power of woman, ought to be poured into society. Various matters of working details were then discussed. No special qualifications for branch councils in other places were stated to be necessary. Mrs. Wilbour also contributed a paper urging the necessity of union among women, of accepting all as co-laborers in the same cause, and of being earnest, unselfish, and persevering in carrying out the aims of the Council. mittee of the Woman's Council, under the Presidency of ANOTHER WIFE-MURDER IN THE SIXTH WARD.

For a considerable time past John and Mary Smith have occupied a room in the lodging-house of Patrick Ward, at No. 37 Mulberry-st. They were very intemate perand quarreled almost continually. Yesterday they were intoxicated as usual, and during the forenoon Ward heard Smith again beating his wife. This was so common an occurrence that he paid no attention to it. About 1 p. m., Ward, having occasion to enter the room occupied by the Smiths, saw the woman ising on the bed, and on examining her closely found she was dead. Smith was thou absent. He at once informed Capt. Jourdan of the fact, and that officer visited the apartment. There were marks of violence on the face and body of the woman, but whether sufficient to cause death, only a post morten examination can determine. Search was made for Smith, and last evening he was found and locked up in the Franklin-st. Police Station to await the result of a coroner's inquest. Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 30 years. FIRE IN GREENWICH-ST.

At 12:15 this morning Officer Brady discovered a fire on the third floor of the brown-stone front, four story building, Nos. 173 and 173 Greenwich-st. Owing to the promptness of the Fire Department under Chief Engineer Kingsland, the fire was prevented from spreading beyond that floor, but the entire building was deluged with water. The basement is occupied by Frederick Klein as a lager beer saloon, less about $500. Insured for $500. The first floor of No. 1751s occupied by A. & G. Clark, dealers in boots and shoes. Stock damaged by water. The second floor is occupied by J. G. Wood, printer, and for the manufacture of paper bags. The third and fourth floors are occupied by S. Harrison, manufacturer of eigars. His loss by fire and water is heavy. The first floor of No. 173 is occupied by J. Ross as a restaurant and sample room. Stock damaged by water. The building is damaged to the amount of $2,000. Owing to the absence story building, Nos. 173 and 175 Greenwich-st. Owing to sample room. Store dambaged by water. The binding is damaged to the amount of $2,000. Owing to the absence of the occupants, the losses and insurances could not be ascertained. Sergeant Estabrook and a piatoon of Po-lice of the Twenty-seventh Precinct were present, and materially aided the firemen.

THE MEDICAL STUDENTS IN PHILADELPHIA. The clinic of last Saturday in the Pennsylvania Hospital of Philadelphia was attended by about 135 young men and by 39 ladies. Perfect silence prevailed, and there was no rowdyism on the part of the male students. Several cases were examined and an operation performed—the amputation of a foot. The young men retired at the conclusion in good order, and made no demonstration when the laddes passed out. The Hoard of Managers of the Hospital, at a session on Saturday morning passed resolutions referring to the disorder of the previous Saturday, and saying that the privileges of the climes could be accorded to such students only as "are disposed to conduct themselves with propriety.

Gold Prices .- We are and have been strong advocates of a speedy return to specie parments, as it will, in our opinion, set the wheels of commerce again whirling, now clogged with a currency which bears a falsebood upon its face; therefore we had with joy all movements ter ing toward the desired goal. The movement to which we now specially refer is to the great sale of Dur Goods, Silks. Shawls, Fancy Goods, &c., at 501 Broadway, by JNO. CHESTER BULLOCK, full particulars of which can be found in another column. Many of the prices quoted are as low as before the war, and in no instance is there more difference charged than the additional duty adds to them.

Dr. B. C. PERITY, the stifful and webl-known Dermatological science in this country, has closed his fineton office, and can now be consulted at his old New York effice, No. 43 linedest, for diseased scalp, loss of hair, unnatural reduces of the nose, pumples, black worms, moth patches, freezies, moies and webs.

Became persons have tried various preparations for the Hair, and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulty made worse by their me, they should not be discouraged. The one preparation system for my class of diseases must necessarily prove a failure, No one compound can be available for all discases; it may remove some, when in other cases it is useless, and in many positively injurious.

Dr. PERICH'S method is in accordance with the law of cause and effact. He makes a nersunal examination, ascertains what discase of the scalp has, or is producing a loss of last or premature grayness, and prescribes the remedies the case requires. Hence the great success in treating Capillary Discases.
